High Rollers' Gift to Dad

Monday September 15, 2003

Mum and dad, Marie and Brian Sutherland and their sons Stephen and Paul

Two Manchester brothers who claim to be making a fortune on the stock market, have made their father's life-long dream come true - by presenting him with a Bentley.

Paul Sutherland 31, and business partner Stephen 34, who live in Mossley say they netted more than £107,543 in just one day's trading.

And they spent it on a luxury Bentley Continental two door coupe for dad Brian.

"With making such a tidy sum in just one day we thought it was an ideal opportunity to make our dad's dream come true. He is the greatest dad you could wish for, and because he's helped and supported us all this time it was just our way of showing our appreciation." said Stephen.

Stephen, who is the stock market wizard and makes profits from investing activities, manages their stock portfolio. Paul says he teaches other people how to realise their financial goals.
