They're on the Road to Success

Stephen and Paul Sutherland hand over the Bently to their dad Brian

Two financial wizards have made their father's dreams come true by buying him a luxury car after netting a whopping £107,543.45 in just one day.

Stock market success stories Paul Sutherland 31, and his business partner brother Stephen 34, were able to grant their dad's lifetime wish of owning his very own Bentley Continental 2 door coupe thanks to one days speculation.

Stephen Sutherland said "With making such a tidy sum in just one day we thought it was an ideal opportunity to make our dads dream come true. He is the greatest dad you could wish for and because he's helped and supported us all this time, it was just our way of showing our appreciation."

Although the Sutherland brothers left school with few academic qualifications they have steadily built up their Mossley based empire which has two functions. While Stephen keeps his eye on investment opportunities, Paul looks after ISACO Ltd, a project that teaches people the secrets of how to gain financial independence.

The brothers attribute their current success to the work ethic instilled by their dad Brian when they worked for the family cleaning and maintenance business.

But according to Paul, they were not given preferential treatment. Instead their first weekly wage was just £47 per week and their jobs involved hands on work, which included industrial cleaning. It was this, they added, that helped them to understand how the business really worked and realise their financial dreams.

Now Stephen and Paul are keen to share their business know-how and have since written their first book "The Fast Track to Financial Independence" in which they share "seven essential ingredients to making money."

Paul said: "If you want to get to a stage in your life where you never have to worry about money again, then this is the book you should be reading. It is written in plain English and is not just a 'get rich quick' guide, but educates you on starting out slowly and building up your confidence in investing."

Not all things turn to gold for these two brothers however.

Despite his delight at being given a Bentley the Sutherland brothers' father now has to have the garage extended as his new car doesn't fit.
